REGISTRATION

09:30 H

Welcome to the 12th CNAG Symposium on Genome Research
Ivo Gut, Centro Nacional de Análisis Genómico (CNAG)

09:45 H

Human Cell Atlases in Health and Disease
Holger Heyn, Centro Nacional de Análisis Genómico (CNAG)

10:10 H

Decoding oncogenic processes in childhood cancer
Alexandra Avgustinova, Institut de Recerca Joan de Déu (IRSJD)

10:35 H

TBC
Bonsai Lab

10:50 H

In-situ Spatial Transcriptomics as a tool for next-generation pathology
Anna Pascual, Centro Nacional de Análisis Genómico (CNAG)

11:15 H

COFFEE BREAK

11:45 H

Dynamic changes of tumor and microenvironment in colorectal cancer. From bench to bedside and bench again
Elena Elez, Vall d'Hebron Instituto de Oncología (VHIO)

12:10 H

Recent advances in Illumina technologies and their applications
Pietro Gatti, Illumina

12:25 H

Structure determination of genomes and genomic domains by image tracing
Marc A. Martí-Renom, Centro Nacional de Análisis Genómico (CNAG)

12:50 H

LUNCH

14:00 H

Applying single-cell RNA sequencing and spatial transcriptomics to understand inflammatory bowel disease
Azucena Salas, Inflammatory Bowel Disease group (FRCB-IDIBAPS)

14:25 H

Long-Read Sequencing: Advances and Bottlenecks
Marta Gut, Centro Nacional de Análisis Genómico (CNAG)

14:50 H

Diagnosing mitochondrial diseases with novel genomic technologies
Rita Horvath, Department of Clinical Neurosciences, University of Cambridge

15:15 H

Going Beyond - Why What You're Missing Matters and how to get there
Daniel Fordham, Oxford Nanopore Technologies

15:30 H

The pearly razorfish as model species for behavioural and population genomics
Margarida Barceló, Institut Mediterrani d'Estudis Avançats, IMEDEA (UIB-CSIC)

15:55 H

Genomics of sex chromosome evolution in cichlid fish
Astrid Böhne, Museum Koenig Bonn

16:20 H
